Corporate citizenship

Transformation is one of EOH's key business philosophies. Our transformation initiatives are wide-ranging and include: employment equity initiatives; skills training and development; gender diversity; enterprise and supplier development and black ownership.

EOH understands that youth development is paramount to a prosperous South Africa. To this end, EOH's corporate social investment ('CSI') activities include programmes and initiatives focused on the youth. These programmes include financial support for the Maths Centre which focuses on teaching mathematics, science, technology and entrepreneurship; support to the child and youth development programmes of Afrika Tikkun; health screening and intervention programmes; and support for the South African Police Service Education Trust ('SAPSET').

EOH is certified as a Large Enterprise Level 2 Contributor with BBBEE Procurement Recognition of 156% as a value adding vendor. 55% of EOH's staff and 67% of its Board members are black.

The EOH Youth Job Creation Initiative

In 2012, EOH launched its 'EOH Youth Job Creation Initiative'. The aim of the programme is to work with business partners, customers and the government to stimulate job creation.

Last year, in partnership with the radio station, 702, EOH challenged CEOs in both the private sector and government organisations to take on, as new interns and learners each year, at least 3% of their current staff complement. Through this and other initiatives, we are aiming to create, together with our partners, 100 000 jobs by 2020.

To date, more than 2 400 EOH interns and learners have participated in these programmes, with over 70% of such participants having been permanently employed by EOH. A further 700 EOH learners are participating in the programme this year. So far, the EOH Youth Job Creation Initiative has created more than 10 000 jobs.

Sustainability

EOH believes that the inter-dependence of people, business and the community is inseparable if a company is to be sustainable. Our approach is underpinned by our strong appreciation that South Africa's development and growth is not solely the responsibility of government.

Our sustainability strategy is founded on our five guiding philosophies.

These philosophies demonstrate our commitment to sustainability by being a responsible employer, delivering an excellent service to our clients, being ethical and fair in all our business relationships and by maintaining a low environmental footprint.

Our 'Best People' philosophy is built on the premise that 'technology makes it possible – people make it happen'. We value the contribution made by every employee and empower each employee to develop their own career path.

EOH's 'Partner for Life' philosophy is about trust, loyalty and long-term mutually beneficial relationships. EOH's strategy is to build confidence through good governance, strong delivery and mutual respect.

EOH's 'Right First Time' philosophy is to reduce business risk and ensure successful implementations by having the appropriate skills, processes and structures. We have programmes and training courses to ensure success in this area.

Sustainable transformation is centred around embracing and valuing diversity which leads to a better understanding of, and engagement with, the people we work with, the customers we serve and the communities in which we operate.

EOH responds to the needs and requirements of the economy and all its customers. We collaborate with both the public and private sector and use our technology, skills and know-how to make South Africa a better place.

ABOUT EOH

Our service offerings have helped, and continue to help, public sector organisations deliver basic social services more efficiently and effectively.

Corporate governance is integral to EOH's business philosophy of ethical leadership. There is no doubt that good corporate governance is a key element in ensuring sustainability, constant growth, ongoing economic efficiency and enhancing investor confidence.

Future plans

We will continue to develop new services, products and solutions; meet our clients' ever-increasing technology needs; partner with new vendors both locally and abroad; build stronger partnerships with our existing customers and provide more of their technology needs through our strategic account model.

We will continue to find suitable businesses to join the Group to complement, and supplement our existing solution clusters.

EOH is increasingly becoming a multi-national company and we will continue to expand in Africa and the Middle East.

We will continue to develop, distribute and implement EOH's niche software and own IP solutions across our existing footprint and into new territories.

EOH intends to continue its involvement in all tiers of government and state owned entities to improve service delivery. EOH sees its involvement in the public sector as both a business opportunity and as a responsibility.

EOH is committed to continue its transformation efforts through its Youth Job Creation Initiative, increased black ownership, enterprise development and increasing its spend on skills development. EOH has several initiatives in this regard and is making good progress on all fronts.

By continually driving our philosophy of recruiting and retaining the best people, driving through our 'Right First Time' quality initiatives, EOH expects to continue to grow strongly for many years to come. EOH has the people, the scale, the offerings, the financial resources, the agility and the know-how to continue to make a significant contribution to all its stakeholders.

BUSINESS PERFORMANCE

During the six months ended 31 January 2017, revenue from South Africa increased by 21% to R7 239 million (excluding EOH's share of revenue relating to equity-accounted investments). Organic growth accounted for 80%.

All divisions contributed to EOH's growth. Services and software continue to be the dominant revenue driver accounting for 83% of revenue. EOH remains a strong and proudly South African company with sales in South Africa accounting for 87% of total revenue with the balance from the rest of Africa and the Middle East.

Profit before tax increased by 26% to R845 million. The growth is attributable to a combination of strong organic growth and recent acquisitions. Headline earnings per share ('HEPS') and earnings per share ('EPS') increased by 22% and 23% respectively, with cash increasing to R2 053 million.

The overall operating margins have increased to 12,6%.

The main growth drivers remain the development of new and additional solutions, services and products delivered to our existing customers and our expansion into new territories to meet clients' needs with a particular focus on EOH's own niche software and IP solutions.

During the period under review, EOH continued its strategy to consolidate and complement its existing services with strategic acquisitions. The businesses that join EOH are quickly integrated into EOH's management structures to complement and enhance its solution offerings to existing and future customers.

During the six months ended 31 January 2017, a number of businesses joined the EOH family. These included the Cornastone group of companies and several small businesses in Africa and the Middle East.

Vendors for acquisition

Vendors for acquisition relates to the contingent consideration where business combinations and other acquisitions are subject to profit warranties. The profit warranties allow for a defined adjusted value to the consideration payable in the event that the warranted profit after tax is not achieved, or in the event that it is exceeded, an agreed sharing in the surplus. The fair value of the contingent arrangement is initially estimated by applying the income approach assuming that the relevant profit warrant will be achieved. Subsequent measurement uses the income approach to calculate the present value of the expected settlement payment using the latest approved budgeted results and reasonable growth rates for the remainder of the relevant warranty periods, taking into account any specific circumstances. Profit warranty periods normally extend over a 24-month period. Upwardly revised performance expectations would result in an increase in the related liability limited to the terms of the applicable purchase agreement.

Unobservable inputs include budgeted results based on margins and revenue growth rates historically achieved by the various segments. Changing such inputs to reflect reasonably possible alternative assumptions does not significantly change the fair value of vendors for acquisition. EOH has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. This includes a valuation team that reports directly to the Group Financial Director who oversees all significant fair value measurements.

Businesses acquired

During the six months under review, EOH continued its strategy to consolidate and complement its existing services with strategic acquisitions. EOH acquired a number of businesses in order to bolster the Group's technology applications, software and consulting solutions capabilities, augment its BPO service offerings and enhance its industrial technology capabilities. The total purchase consideration for these acquisitions is R744 million, consisting of R393 million payable in cash and the issue of 2 211 835 EOH shares. In most instances 100% of the shares were acquired.

For details of the acquisitions made in the prior year, refer to the 2016 Annual Integrated Report.

The contribution made by all acquisitions, to the trading results of the Group, has been accounted from the effective date of the business combination. In determining the purchase consideration paid, the profit history of the relevant business and its growth prospects within the EOH group are considered. The fair value of shares issued as part of the purchase price was determined based on the share price at the effective date. The accounting of these subsidiaries and businesses is based on best estimates and provisional fair values. The Group has not yet completed its assessment of the fair value of all identifiable assets, liabilities and/or contingent liabilities. The fair values will be accurately determined within twelve months from the date of acquisition. Goodwill relates mainly to future profits of these businesses and the anticipated synergies to be derived as a result of joining EOH. Additional funding was obtained to finance some acquisitions. Had the effective dates of the acquisitions been from 1 August 2016, the contribution to revenue and profit before tax would have been R508 million and R73 million respectively.
